

BRITAIN TO ACT ON IRISH HERE

United Kingdom Asked to Request Removal of Sinn Fein Agitators.

PROTEST TO FRANCE

Paris Attention Called to Duffy, "Envoy of Irish Republic."

Washington Herald-Cross Atlantic Service, Special Cable Dispatch. By SIDNEY R. CAVE. London, June 10.—Action by the British government to end activities of Sinn Fein agitators in the United States and Canada is foreseen in proceedings about to be taken against George Gavan Duffy, a member of Parliament representing South Dublin County.

Government has been asked to draw the attention of France to activities in France, where Duffy has been agitating for the Irish republic. A request for Duffy's removal from French territory is expected. If approved by France, he might naturally be returned into British sovereignty, where he would face trial under the anti-sedition laws.

I saw today in the lobby of the house of commons one of the personal cards which Duffy is using in France. On it is engraved in French, the claim that he is the "Envoy of the Republic of Ireland," and a "deputy of the County of Dublin."

If the British government acts in this case, it is probable that similar demands will be made for expulsion of Sinn Fein representatives from the United States and Canada. There is, however, some hesitancy in regards America because of the powerful Irish feeling here, with a political campaign coming on. Government circles would prefer to let the Irish agitation in the United States die out naturally if it will.

A letter from Eamonn deValera, "President of the Irish Republic," received here today from America, says he expects to leave that country during the present month. He feels it is due to loyalty and co-operation of Irish friends in England that he should stop here on his way back home, and personally deliver his message. He concludes, "I'm longing to feast my eyes again on our long tortured and outraged land."

July 5 Is Tentative Date for Spa Meeting

Washington Herald-Cross Atlantic Service, Special Cable Dispatch. London, June 10.—It is learned here that the British and French governments have tentatively set July 5 as the date for the next Spa conference.

Mex, the German food controller, has been in London putting before the British government Germany's food requirements. One of the results of his visit will be the sale by the government of a large quantity of mutton to Germany. The Germans also ask for increased supplies of coal, iron, steel and agricultural manures.

How the Coliseum at Chicago Looked When Senator Lodge Called the G. O. P. Delegates to Order for Wednesday's Business

This picture of the Republican convention was snapped just after Permanent Chairman Lodge had rapped the delegates to order for the second day's deliberations. The vast display of the national colors conceals acoustic apparatus used for the first time at Chicago. It connects with the immense sounding board that looks like a square-shaped megaphone, shown in the rear. Senator Lodge was plainly heard in all parts of the great hall.

U. S. DIPLOMAT AID IN TESCHEN

Wilson Sends Attache to Attend Plebiscite, Despite Old Stand.

Washington Herald-Public Ledger Service, Special Cable Dispatch. Berlin, June 10.—Frederic Dolbeare, secretary of embassy, attached to the American diplomatic commission in Berlin, has been appointed American commissioner to the Teschen plebiscite area, whose ownership is in dispute between Poland and Czechoslovakia. Mr. Dolbeare has gone to Paris to receive instructions before proceeding to his post in a district which presents one of the most delicate problems on the new map of Europe.

Poland and Czechoslovakia are almost ready to go to war over its ownership. It has been reported repeatedly but erroneously that they suspended diplomatic relations and much blood has already been shed in collisions between Polish and Czechoslovakia residents in the duchy.

President Wilson's decision to send a representative to Teschen is apparently out of harmony with the general lines of the American executive policy, which is now to abstain from official participation in institutions created by the peace conference until the treaties have been ratified. But it is understood that both Poland and Czechoslovakia have indicated a particular desire to have America, as a disinterested and unprejudiced party, represented in this area.

Mr. Dolbeare's mission may be regarded as the result of a request from two friendly powers rather than as a mandate under the treaty. One of the younger American diplomats, Mr. Dolbeare was stationed at Vienna and Bern during the European war, was then attached to the American peace commission in Paris, and has had opportunity to study conditions in the "New Balkans" to the east and south of Germany.

Sobbing Mother Tells McHenry Jury Boy Slayer Was Ungovernable And Peculiar In His Childhood

John McHenry's mother yesterday told the jury in Criminal Court No. 1, where he is on trial for his life, charged with the murder of two men, that the youth was wayward and peculiar from childhood.

"He never seemed to understand," she sobbed. District Attorney Cromelin had asked to what extent the mother, Mrs. Marie Cane Rice, had given him her guidance.

"I did all a mother could," was the reply. Mrs. Rice, slender and with dark eyes and twitching, work-worn hands, was dressed in a plain dark suit and black-and-white hat of small size. She was the most important witness of the day for the defense.

Aunt Tells of Outburst. Mrs. Lillian Rice, a rather attractive dark-eyed youthful woman, aunt of the defendant, also was on the witness stand.

"My nephew was always high strung and impulsive," she declared. "Once when he wanted some new black shoes and his mother consented to his having them, I took him to the store to make the purchase and he changed his mind. Insisting on having brown ones. When I refused to buy the brown ones he flew into a rage, wringing his nose in the sneering manner that was characteristic of him."

McHenry snickered, but did not raise his eyes from the floor where they rested during the testimony of both women.

Runs Away Without Shoes. "You will have to take the black ones or none," I told him," the aunt continued. "and he answered he would have none. He ran out of the shop and down the street, but later returned and was lovable as sometimes he was in spite of his peculiarities."

U. S. SHIP OFFICERS WANT ALIENS BANNED

Representative George W. Edmonds, of Philadelphia, protests against the issuance of "Red Ink Tickets" permitting foreigners, to hold executive positions on American ships, in a letter written to J. W. Alexander, Secretary of Commerce yesterday. This step was taken by Mr. Edmonds in response to a petition from Americans eligible to positions in the American merchant marine.

Licensed officers declare foreign born officers in the United States merchant marine are keeping United States citizens with full American licenses out of positions on our own ships.

A "Red Ink Ticket" is a license to foreign-born to act on American ships during the war emergency.

Fifty Injured in Rioting Over High Cost of Living

Rome, June 10.—Fifty persons, including five royal guards, were wounded in street fighting at Apulia, where a general strike has been called in protest against the high cost of living, according to dispatches late today.

Carabinieri patrol the streets and machine guns have been placed on all main thoroughfares of the city. All public utilities have been paralyzed, including the water and light supplies.

At Treviso, strikers have held up railroad trains on which land owners were passengers, compelling them to sign wage agreements under threats of having their property destroyed.

Kiwanis Club Hears Lecture on War Work

Lieut. James M. Dickson told members of the Kiwanis Club of Y. M. C. A. activities in France during the war and exhibited a number of French war maps and other posters at the weekly luncheon meeting of the club in the Washington Hotel yesterday.

The Rev. William W. Shearer presided at the meeting. Charles W. Easterday, vice-president of the club, announced that another Kiwanis award will be chairman next week. Awards in the weekly popularity contest were won by Joseph P. Stephenson, William C. Worthington, William S. Quinter, Charles P. Roberts, Moritz Mayer, Frederick W. Quinter, Roy Nussbaum, Guy V. Norwood, Joseph M. Furnas, Howard P. Foley and C. Maurice Hopkins. Frank Simons was given the guest prize.

D. C. REPRESENTED AT LIBRARY CONGRESS

Colorado Springs, Col., June 10.—Washington was represented at the forty-second annual conference of the American Library Association, just concluded here, by H. H. B. Meyer, chief bibliographer of the Library of Congress; George F. Bowerman, librarian of the District of Columbia Public Library; C. H. Hastings and Dena M. Kingsley, of the Library of Congress; Luther L. Dickerson, in charge of the library service of the army; Charles H. Brown, library specialist, sixth division of the shop and down the street, but later returned and was lovable as sometimes he was in spite of his peculiarities.

Miss Kingsley urged State agencies collecting war books to place sets of such publications in the Library of Congress.

Carl H. Milam, director of the American Library Association War Service, is secretary. The association is now conducting a drive for $2,000,000 to promote library extension to make the slogan "Books for Everybody" a reality.

NORTHWEST INSURED AGAINST COAL FAMINE

The Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday took steps to insure a winter coal supply for the northwest States.

The commission in an order effective June 13 sanctioned a coal pooling arrangement. Coal consigned to the pool will have priority on all railroads touching Lake Erie ports.

EX-PRESIDENT JAILED TO PREVENT MOBBING

Former President Estrada Cabrera is now held in the police prison at Guatemala City. The State Department was advised yesterday by the American Legation at Guatemala.

The authorities in Guatemala explained that Cabrera was removed to his present place of imprisonment to defend him against mob attacks.

A Double Responsibility

—“Good morning, Mrs. Armstrong! What shall it be—some really nice soap? We—”

—“No, thank you. I have plenty. What I want is two bottles of Nujol.”

—“Oh, that you’ll find at the next counter. This is the toilet goods, you know.”

—“But that’s why I came right here. You have soap and tooth-paste and wash cloths in this show case—every single thing to keep our precious outsides clean and fresh. But our insides must get along as best they can until some fine day there’s trouble—and then we cry for a doctor.”

—“I’m afraid we are liable to forget what is not right under our eyes.”

—“That’s just it. But I’ve learned my lesson. I’d no more think of forgetting my tablespoonful of Nujol than I would my bath or my tooth brush. Two years ago, just before my little girl was born, I had almost every kind of constipation a woman can have. Of course I tried all the ‘cure’ laxatives—pills, salts, mineral waters, etc.; but they only made matters worse. I needed a stronger dose every day. Finally my doctor came in one day after I had one of my bad spells and took things into his own hands.”

—“How, Mrs. Armstrong?”

—“He said: ‘Your body is not getting rid of the food waste properly. It gets as far as your lower intestines—your colon—and there it stops and decays. The poisons arising from this waste are then carried by the blood throughout the body and do terrible harm. Those remedies you’ve been taking are drug medicines. The more you take the more you need. You have a double responsibility now and must be gaining strength, not losing it. Now I’m going to put you on a new treatment—the Nujol treatment.’”

—“How interesting! And the effect?”

—“None—for the first two days. Then I began to be regular as clockwork.”

—“Why, that’s wonderful!”

—“It is wonderful. You see, Nujol works by an entirely new principle. Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system. It prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals, which is certainly the healthiest habit I know of. And besides that, it’s absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.”

—“It sounds like such a reasonable way to treat your system, Mrs. Armstrong.”

—“That’s it. I don’t mind telling you privately that I’m just as proud of a clean system as I am of a clean face. And a clean system means a clean face, Miss Grey.”

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 80 Broadway, New York, for booklet “Thirty Feet of Danger.”
